

In the specification:

The Examiner has objected to the specification in that the claims do not start on a separate page, and states that correction is required. Accordingly, the specification is to be amended by deleting all the text from page 8 through page 13 inclusive, and new pages 8 through 13 are provided herewith. The text has not been altered in any manner other than moving the text starting at line 8 on page 8 to start at the top of page 9. The applicant respectfully requests that the new pages, conforming to the rule, be substituted for the deleted pages of the original specification.
